Behaviour

Behaviour is a foundation stone that underpins everything that happens in a school. At Wood End, we are working hard to implement an effective behaviour policy that is clearly understood by everyone so that our school is a safe and happy place to learn.

In every class, we implement a system of 'Good to be Green'. This consists of a series of faces – green, yellow and red. Each child has a named peg which starts every day on the green face. This means that every day is a fresh start. If a child breaks our one word school rule of respect then they are given a warning. If they do not change their behaviour as a result of the warning then their peg will move to the yellow face. If there is a further incident, which is incredibly rare in our school, the peg will be moved to red and the child will see Mrs Smith or Mrs Cross. No child has been on the red face this year as a result of disrupting lessons.

There are actions and behaviours that require immediate intervention from a senior member of staff. These are also rare in our school. In such cases, all pupils will be listened to and appropriate actions taken. Parents will always be notified of serious incidents in school.

For pupils who are 'Good to be Green' there are many rewards for their excellent behaviours. We have just introduced new certificates to recognise those pupils who are always respectful including in the dinner hall and on the playground.

When behaviour is good then learning can be maximised and that is our aim for pupils at Wood End. The year has had a positive start and will only continue to improve.

Spot Light on Excellence...

This year our aim to engage in as many sporting activities as we can. As a result of this we are working closely with our partners at TS Academy. Mr Weatherall, our new coach, is going to support school with events making sure we enter them and helping to select the teams.

We also have TS Academy in at lunchtimes to provided organised sport and their coaches offer support in PE lessons to improve practice in school. We use our Sports Premium money to fund this which is allocated to every school as part of the London 2012 legacy.

This year we have also secured the support of Embody to develop dance provision in school. They currently teach Hedgehog and Fox class but this will change after half term so more children benefit and teachers get to gain new ideas and improve their skills too.

We will keep you posted of our sporting successes through the News section of the website.

Who's Who

Hello my name is Ms Hinds and I am the new School Business Manager for Wood End and Dordon Primary Schools. I joined Community Academies Trust some years ago working at The Polesworth School having had a very long career in finance, administration and HR. The best part about working in a school is that it is so rewarding to see your children enjoy school and have fun learning new things.

In my spare time I enjoy spending time with my children who play paintball and football locally. I like to keep busy in my spare time with swimming and dancing.
